DISCLAIMER

Company Management is responsible for establishing and maintaining an effective internal system of procedures and controls in the context of achieving the Company's objectives, a substantive part of which is the procedure for preparing and presenting financial information free of errors or omissions.

This responsibility includes Management putting in place certain checks and balances / controls that prevent or allow the uncovering of cases where the procedures and control systems do not function effectively. A well-designed internal audit system should not normally leave room for grounds for fraud to arise or contribute to fraud.

Without prejudice to the liability of members of the Board of Directors:

- The Audit Committee is responsible for supporting the Board of Directors in its duties by monitoring the internal procedures and audit system independently and objectively, and in particular financial reporting, quality and risk management, the internal audit unit and the supervision of scheduled audits.
- The Committee is responsible for regularly briefing Management by submitting recommendations / proposals from the Committee, if necessary, relating both to monitoring of the financial reporting procedure and the internal audit system and procedures which have been designed and implemented and are monitored by Company Management.

Members of the Committee exercise their powers with the professional judgement in accordance with Article 44 of Law 4449/2017 as amended and in force by Article 74 of Law 4706/2020 and the Audit Committee Bylaws.

“Professional judgement” means showing the level of attention and skill that a prudent and capable member of an Audit Committee would be expected to demonstrate in a similar case. Consequently, due professional judgement examines issues within its remit to a reasonable extent given the circumstances of each case.
